The following article appeared in the "Chicago Tribune", 3 Star Final Edition, on March 11, 1966:

"KILL STRIP JOINT BOSS

"SHOT 3 TIMES DURING CARD GAME IN CAFE

"Dominick Galiano, 51, of 14 W. Elm st., manager of a north Clark street strip joint until it was closed by the city last June, was shot and killed last night during a high-stakes card game in an abandoned restaurant at 837 North av.

"He was shot during a quarrel and staggered from the front door and collapsed at the curb. He had been wounded twice in the back and once in the leg.

"Others who had been behind a partition in the rear of the restaurant ran from the building or became lost in the crowd. Two men, however, who were seen running south in nearby Dayton avenue were seized by police and taken to the East Chicago avenue district for questioning.

"Three Others Seized

"They identified themselves as Jasper Campise, 36, of 1631 N. Newland av., and Tony Cirignani, 36, who refused to give police a home address.

"After the shooting when the crowd had drifted away two men and a woman entered the restaurant and were taken to the station for questioning.

"The three, who had entered separately, identified themselves as Leonard Franzone, 51, of 8908 Central av., Skokie; Philip Fiore, 1302 Ohio st.; and Miss Ann Chroptyk, 35, of 4027 Oakdale av.

"Police said that Franzone, a former bartender in the Talk of the Town bar which Galiano had managed, was carrying $947. Miss Chroptyk was carrying $1,000 and she told police she had gone to meet Fiore on a date.

"Galiano, who had $263 when police found him, was an uncle of Anthony Ponzio, 36, who was found strangled and trussed with rope in the trunk of a stolen auto in the parking lot of O'Hare International airport on Jan. 11.

"Police said Galiano has a minor police record which dated to 1934 when he was shot in the foot and captured as part of a gang which robbed a furniture store at 1450 Dayton st.

"Find Prostitutes There

"Galiano managed the Talk of the Town, 1159 N. Clark st., for several years before Mayor Daley revoked its liquor license because prostitutes were soliciting and committing indecent acts there.

"Ten decks of cards and a score pad were recovered by detectives in the filthy restaurant.

"Fiore, who was taken to the station for questioning, admitted to police that he has a record for burglary.

"His prints will be examined to determine if he is the Philip Fiore who has a long police record and was sentenced to 5 to 10 years for burglary of the home of a Park Ridge tool manufacturer on June 11, 1963.

"Wife Beaten in Home

"In February, 1962, Galiano's wife, Jacqueline, was beaten and slashed in her home at 1212 N. Hamlin av., Park Ridge, by two men she charged had been sent there by her estranged husband.

"In March, 1962, Galiano filed a divorce suit against his wife charging her with adultery, marijuana addiction, and use of alcohol. The divorce was granted.

"In January, 1965, Mrs. Galiano pleaded guilty to possession of and dispensing dangerous drugs and was fined $350 and sentenced to seven days in jail. The charges grew out of her arrest in the previous November on charges she made her $40,000 home available to teenagers and others for sex orgies and dope parties."

Various other Chicago newspaper articles reveal that the Illinois Crime Commission has instituted investigation into the slaying of GALIANO and may include the matter in the Commission's public hearings on the high interest juice loan racket which are scheduled to resume April 6, 1966.

These articles also quote Homicide Chief FRANCIS J. FLANAGAN, Chicago Police Department, as saying witnesses have been "very uncooperative" and that the gangland code of silence once again was hampering police in their investigation of a hoodlum murder.

Information appeared revealing that JASPER CAMPISE and [redacted] invoked the protection of the 5th Amendment when called before the Cook County Grand Jury on March 16, 1966.

b7D

Chicago T-3 advised in late March, 1966, that the Cook County States Attorney's Office was conducting extensive investigation into GALIANO's slaying and was seriously considering offering immunity to CAMPISE and [redacted] since they were reportedly in the company of GALIANO just prior to his murder.

Chicago T-3 further advised that information had been derived from an "outfit" Chicago police officer that NICK CIVELLA or a CIVELLA representative reportedly recently came to Chicago to determine the reason behind the GALIANO slaying and the extent of CAMPISE's involvement therein.

CG 92-1369

On March 29, 1966, Lieutenant [redacted] Area 6, Homicide, Chicago Police Department, telephonically advised SA RICHARD P. CAVANAGH that tentative plans have been made to subpoena CAMPISE and [redacted] before the grand jury and offer them immunity regarding GALIANO's slaying.

b6
b7C

On March 18, 1966, the Identification Division of the FBI made available a copy of FBI record, Number 971 106, showing DOMINICK GALIANO under Chicago Police Department Number 86495 was "Found Dead" on March 10, 1966.
